I have been painting since I was a child. I majored in Studio Art at Skidmore College and received a Masters in Art Education from Rhode Island School of Design.

Living in South Florida, I very often paint outdoors--the Northern Everglades and the ocean.
As a painter, I am always challenged by the relationships between abstraction and representing the view in front of me.

I teach at the Armory Art Center in West Palma Beach, FL, and am represented by Liman Studio Gallery in Palm Beach. My work is also sold online on serenaandlily.com/artcollection.

You can also follow me on Instagram @nancytartpaintings.